Hongkong Land Showcases Work of Renowned Sculptor

(HONG KONG, 31st May 2010) The first exhibition of world-renowned sculptor Ju Ming's Tai Chi series in Hong Kong was brought by Hongkong Land in January 1986. The company later bought one of his Tai Chi sculptures, Single Whip Dip, a bronze weighing over 3,000 kilograms. It can be seen today at the Open Plaza of Exchange Square.

Hongkong Land is pleased to welcome back Ju Ming and his most recent creations, the Swimming works that are part of his Living World series. The Swimming sculptures show another dimension of Ju Ming. They are shining works cast in stainless steel that capture the joy of life, but in a bold and daring manner.

Part of Ju Ming's Tai Chi series, Living World series and his latest line of sculptures Living World series – Swimming are on display at The Landmark, the Open Plaza and The Rotunda at Exchange Square as well as Jardine House from 1st to 20th June 2010.
